

Catholics Back Interracial Marriage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cardinal and 15 other prominent Roman Catholic clergymen have joined a Protestant couple in asking the Supreme Court to outlaw state bans on racial intermarriage.

Marriage is a fundamental act of Protestantism, Orthodox Christianity and Judaism and may not legally be restricted by the state without a showing that it endangers society, the clerics told the court Thursday.

The clergymen, including Lawrence Cardinal Shehan of Baltimore and three other archbishops, all are from states with laws prohibiting interracial marriage.

They allied themselves with Richard P. Loving, a white construction worker, and his part-Negro, part-Indian wife, Mildred, in the couple's attack on Virginia's antimiscegenation law — and by implication similar laws in 17 other states.

"The preservation of a racial segregated society is not an interest which the state may lawfully protect," they maintained.

The clergymen pressed two main arguments. They were that laws prohibiting racially mixed marriages also prohibit the free exercise of religion guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution; that such laws unconstitutionally deny the right to have children.

They quoted writings by Catholic, Orthodox, Protestant and Jewish scholars and by Clyde Kluckhohn, a prominent anthropologist, to support their position.

The Lovings, backed by the American Civil Liberties Union, claim the Virginia law is invalid because it makes "the color of a person's skin the test of whether his marriage constitutes a criminal offense."

In response, Virginia Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Button told the court last November that the state law reflects a policy that has held for more than two centuries and infringes no constitutional right.

At one time or another 41 states had antimiscegenation laws. They exist now in Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming.

State Demos Divided On Vietnam Bombing

Oust Sukarno Drive Threat: New Bloodbath

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian Congress announced today it will meet March 7 to discuss the dismissal of President Sukarno, and one leader said the president's ouster has already been approved "in spirit."

Melanthon Siregar, vice chairman of the Congress, noted that Parliament, Indonesia's second-ranking legislative body, has unanimously approved a resolution calling for Sukarno's dismissal. The Parliament makes up half the membership of the Congress.

Skill Work Rules Big Contract Issue

DETROIT (AP) — The word "demonstration" may boil down to s-t-r-i-k-e by September.

Lines of demarcation (the spelling out of exact jobs required of various tradesmen) are certain to be demanded by the United Auto Workers Union for its skilled men in this year's upcoming new contract bargaining.

And the setting of such lines is bound to be opposed by the Convention To Accent Policies Vs. Candidates

LANSING (AP) — With the emphasis shifted from potential candidates for party chairmen to platform and policy positions, some 2,200 Democrats prepared today for a weekend state convention in Grand Rapids.

Most important items on Saturday's opening day schedule could be the pre-platform drafting conference and district caucuses.

The delegates are expected to take up the Vietnam war issue with the party splitting into pro and anti-administration factions.

Some delegates are expected to support President Johnson's policies while other call for at least a suspension of bombing in North Vietnam.

State fiscal policy is another thorny issue expected to receive delegation attention.

Wife's Testimony Is Damaging To Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony that Adam Clayton Powell apparently diverted thousands of dollars intended as his wife's salary may have made a strong impact on the select House committee weighing his fitness to serve in Congress.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Thursday's testimony

by the Harlem congressman's estranged wife, Marjorie, depicted Powell as being "in the position of coercing her in taking the checks from her, signing her name and disposing of the funds for his own purposes."

Celler described the soft-spoken Mrs. Powell as "a woman of great courage."

Call Thrills Pal, $336 Bill Sends Father In Rage

CHADWELL, HEATH, England (AP) — Louise Daniels was thrilled when her American pen pal became a phone pal with calls all the way from Los Angeles.

Her father, Paul Daniels, was anything but thrilled when he got his phone bill and found that the charges for the 6,000-mile calls had been reversed.

The damage: $336.

Sources close to the committee described the testimony as "closer to the Congress" than other matters being studied such as Powell's New York court troubles, in which appeals currently are pending.

The committee's major problem, the sources indicated, is to determine just what action is warranted by the evidence and by historical precedents covering past cases in which congressmen were expelled or punished.

Congress leaders said the five-day session will also investigate Sukarno's role in the October 1965 Communist coup attempt. They predicted the Congress would reject Sukarno's recent statement denying any responsibility for the attempted coup.

The approaching showdown brought a new threat of a bloodbath by opponents of Sukarno, 65, who has been reduced to a figurehead status by the military regime of Gen. Suharto.

Brig. Gen. Isahak Sjuarsa, military commander of the Moslem province of Atjeh in North Sumatra, warned that those who oppose Sukarno will face the same fate as the thousands of Communists slaughtered after the attempted coup, the official news agency Antara said today.

Waiting

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany, sitting atop a potential explosion that could read the ranks of organized labor, played a quiet waiting game today with rebellious Walter P. Reuther.

Meany reportedly was in a "hiding" mood, awaiting Reuther's move on whether he would follow up on his resignation as an AFL-CIO vice president by pulling his United Auto Workers Union out of the federation.

"You know how complicated I am," Meany joked to associates in referring to Reuther's criticism that the labor movement is stagnant under Meany's leadership.

Many informed sources said Meany won't take up the issue of replacing Reuther on the council now, and will withhold a prepared "white paper" rebuttal to Reuther's 7,000-word indictment of AFL-CIO leadership.

However, new moves by Reuther's union could force the issue.

Auto Production Edges Up A Bit

DETROIT (AP) — Automobile production this week edged up slightly to 146,062 cars, compared with 144,756 built last week, but still was well below the 189,199 cars built in the corresponding week a year ago.

Automobile output so far this year reached 1,046,735, far back of the 1,353,962 produced at this point in 1966.

Production was down partly because of an American Motors Corp. plant shutdown that began Monday. Storms and labor difficulties also trimmed industry output.

By ignoring Reuther, Meany is putting the whole burden of possible cessation on Reuther. The auto workers are expected to decide at their convention in April whether to quit the AFL-CIO.

Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. They strenuously have opposed such in the past. Spokesmen say they have no intention of accepting this time. They interpret demarca-

The UAW tried unsuccessfully last summer to gain reopening at the Big Three of four-year contracts which run out next Sept. 5. The sole purpose was to try for an immediate increase of at least 50 cents hourly for its skilled.

The nebulous International Society of Skilled Trades, seeking AFL-CIO affiliation at a time when the UAW is only a step away from breaking ties with the parent organization, has been attempting to entice UAW skilled into its ranks.

AFL-CIO withdrawal would lay the UAW open to raiding, if they chose, by craft unions now barred by an AFL-CIO agreement members will not raid each other.

Governor's Tax Plan Dead With Dems: Dzendzel

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney's proposed tax package "wouldn't get a single Democrat vote in the Senate the way it is now," Senate Minority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said today.

"Under the governor's program," Dzendzel complained at a news conference, "only five per cent of the additional revenues would come from corporations, while 95 per cent would be paid for by individuals and families."

"This does not strike a blow for equity," Dzendzel said, "but continues to shift the tax burden further on the average income family."

Dzendzel said Democrats in the Senate had no tax program of their own ready to submit at this time.

He said the minority party in the Senate might come up with its own tax program "if we are pinned to the wall."

"We've been told for 12 years we need more taxes," Dzendzel said. "We're still operating without them."

Dzendzel is leader of the 18-member Democratic bloc in the Senate. Republicans have a majority in the upper chamber with 20 votes.

Dzendzel particularly complained that industry is not paying a fair share under Romney's tax package.

"Pay Fair Share" (Romney) has been given many tax reductions," Dzendzel observed. "Years ago, he was a lobbyist for the big auto companies. Maybe it's paying off now."

"We recognize the need for big industry in Michigan, but it should pay its fair share of taxes," Dzendzel said.

Dzendzel said more tax relief is needed for families in the lower income brackets. Under any state income tax, he said, some relief must be given citizens.

Viets Kill 100 Cong

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese troops reported killing 100 guerrillas today as the Communists apparently were fleeing from their disastrous battle with Korean marines two days ago.

A government spokesman said the enemy troops were caught in a crossfire between 15 armored personnel carriers and artillery and air strikes. The government troops suffered no casualties, the spokesman reported.

Motor Rebuilders:

Plant Expansion Is Under Study

Discussions are being held in an effort to solve a space problem for the Northern Motor Rebuilders, an Escanaba industry now employing about 70 persons and desirous of expanding.

Involved in the discussions are the City of Escanaba, the Escanaba Foundation, and the Northern Motor Rebuilders officials. The industry, located at 800 1st Ave. N., occupies a building owned by the City of Escanaba.

"We have been in this building since 1953 and we do need more space," said R. J. "Jack" Burroughs, president and general manager of Northern Motor Rebuilders.

A meeting is scheduled for Monday, Feb. 20, to be attended by representatives of the City, the industry, with the Escanaba Foundation. A relocation of the Northern Motor Rebuilders will be discussed.

"We'll see where we go from there," said Burroughs.

City Manager George Harvey has informed the City Council that Northern Motor Rebuilders has been pressed for space for the past year. The brick building, once used by the Chicago & North Western Railway, was purchased by the city from the railway to house industries. The first occupant was a furniture manufacturer.

The Northern Motor Rebuilders moved in 24 years ago and has a sustained record of employment and a payroll of continuing benefit to the community.

"Another problem that has come up is the need for a new heating system, inasmuch as the present building is heated with city steam, which will be discontinued June 1," the city manager explained.

"In order to furnish heat for this building it is necessary to build a small addition on the present building. With insufficient space, we hesitate to spend the funds necessary for this purpose," Harvey said.

"Over the past week or two we have been working with Northern Motor Rebuilders and have now come up with a plan which would relocate them to the other side of the ore dock along the Danforth Road," Harvey continued.

He said this was a matter involving the Escanaba Foundation, and that the Feb. 20 meeting is for the purpose of taking up the relocation proposal.

Another Escanaba business, the Coca Cola Co., is planning an addition to its present building at 1030 N. 21st St., but because of certain zoning restrictions it is necessary that it be considered by the Board of Appeals, which will meet on March 6.

The Escanaba mayor was chosen by the president of the Michigan Municipal League and the chairman of the mayor's exchange committee to participate with Gov. Romney in the drawing, to take place in Lansing on Feb. 23.

Charles Lane and his committee prepared and served the dinner. Wilfred Doucette was general chairman.

Principal method used in the study is the radioactive tracer technique.

Garden Soldier Wounded In War

A 20-year-old Garden soldier who was seriously wounded in Vietnam combat was flown to Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D. C. this week for further treatment of wounds.

He was still reported in serious condition.

Pfc. Robert B. Lauzon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tatrow of Garden, was wounded by enemy small arms fire Jan. 22 The Defense Dept. notified his parents by telegram that he was hit in the head and shoulder and had lost his left eye.

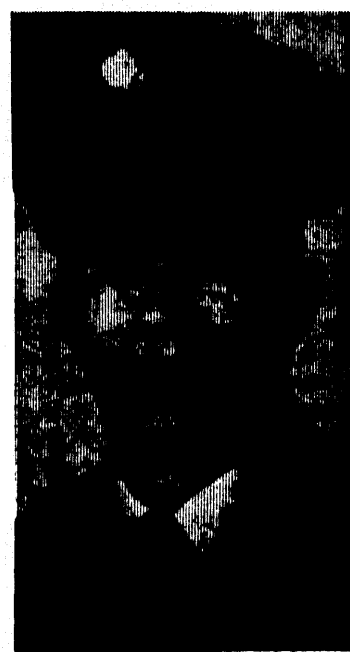

A 1964 graduate of Garden High School, Lauzon was a machine gunner with the 25th Infantry Division. He had been sent to Vietnam last May.

After he was wounded he was taken to the 25th Evacuation hospital in Vietnam. An attempt to take him to Japan for treatment was halted at Manila, Philippines, where he was taken to an Air Force Hospital because of the seriousness of his injuries. From there he was flown to Washington.

While at the Evacuation Hospital, he was visited by a cousin, William Bodette, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bodette of Garden, who is also serving in Vietnam. The two young men attended high school together.

Lauzon was the second young soldier from Garden seriously wounded in Vietnam in January.

Sp4 Lawrence (Lonnie) McPhee, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McPhee, was wounded Jan. 14 when a land mine exploded. A 1965 graduate of Garden High School, McPhee was also evacuated to Walter Reed Hospital, Washington.

Legislators' Policies

Five legislators in Michigan's 37th Senatorial District have gone on record supporting tax reform but insist it be attached to a reduction in property taxes, according to an Associated Press report from Alpena, where they met last weekend.

They were quoted as saying they would support "the principle of tax reform, based upon just and equitable revision of the present tax structure . . . guaranteeing a much needed reduction of the property tax."

Besides the "tax reform" proposal, the legislators called for:

- A stepped up program of higher education at the local level, particularly within the community college concept.
- Expansion of vocational training in Northern Michigan.
- Elimination of "prohibitive Mackinac Bridge tolls."
- A system of scenic highways along the Great Lakes.
- Increased efforts to improve airport facilities.
- An expanded highway program.
- Action "to guarantee generations of tomorrow both clean air and water."

These are all laudable objectives. Some are vital to the welfare of the Upper Peninsula. But all of them will cost money—and that means more taxes, not less.

It must be assumed then that when these legislators speak of "tax reform," they really mean a hike in taxes, even though they seek a lower property levy. And the increase in taxes, it would seem, can only come from a state income tax. Although the phrase is avoided, it is difficult to see how the program of the five legislators could be enacted without an income tax, unless they have in mind a witches brew of nuisance taxes. If the legislators do have a state income tax in mind, why don't they say so?

Gov. George Romney laid it on the line when he appealed for solid Republican support of his fiscal reform program—including a state income tax—in a meeting in Hastings. "The day of decision is at hand," he declared. "The decision is between tax reform and paying more taxes—or slashing education and other essential services."

The 10-point program was adopted by Senator Thomas F. Schweigert, (R-Petoskey); Reps. Joseph P. Swallow, (R-Alpena), Robert W. Davis, (R-St. Ignace), and Charles Varnum, (R-Manistiquie). The fifth legislator, whose district covers a part of the 37th Senatorial District is Rep. Dominic Jacobetti. He did not attend the Alpena meeting, but Senator Schweigert said the Negaunee Democrat adopted the plan as drafted by his colleagues.

One of the 10 points not listed above reads: "Recognizing that the Michigan Department of Conservation has dedicated many state parks but has failed to adequately develop them, we support a program of establishing a priority of improving existing parks prior to any future dedications."

This is a short-sighted resolution that contradicts another resolution by the same group, stating: "To enhance tourist activity, we support a system of scenic highways along the Great Lakes."

The reason the Conservation Department is dedicating state parks is "to enhance tourist activity." Department officials believe priority should be placed on acquiring quality recreation lands now, while they are still available, instead of waiting until these properties either have been sold to others or until the cost has become prohibitive. Thus, the Craig and Crooked Lakes parcels in Baraga County were acquired last year when they were made available. They may not be developed for park use for years, but their eventual use by the public is assured, which might not have been the case if the lands hadn't been acquired now. If we are to look ahead to future enjoyment of recreational facilities, we are to look now to making those facilities possible.

The five legislators have generally set admirable goals for the region they represent, and the majority of citizens in this region will concur with their objectives. But they should have been more explicit and courageous in their support of a state income tax as inevitable and desirable and they might have been more consistent on recreation policy in Northern Michigan.

What Security?

The secretary of the U.S. Treasury warns that unless Congress boosts the government's debt limit by $7 billion within 30 days, it might be just too bad for elderly citizens who depend on Social Security, veterans' pensions and retirement pay. There just might be no money for such things.

Many of us have been under the impression that the money paid into Social Security by an employee, along with that paid by his employer, was a bona fide, long-term investment in the employee's future and was just like putting money in the bank.

But the United States government now announces that unless immediate action is taken by Congress to permit Uncle Sam to go even deeper into debt, Uncle Sam won't have his money to pay back to those who entrusted it to him as a hedge against what are euphemistically called the "Golden Years."

A couple of questions come to mind.

1. How come these particular funds are included among those for which there would be no money, when there still seems to be plenty of dough to spend on other governmental projects — an annual travel bill of $1.7 billion and a printing item of $305 million, to name two?

2. Isn't the government's threat pretty much the same as a bank telling a depositor, "Sorry, pal, but we just won't be able to return your money to you — unless, of course, we find a way to borrow a lot more cash in a hurry?"

Bravo, Chuck!

Our Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistiquie) had hardly got his seat in the new Legislature warm before he was asking the State Highway Department what it meant to do about the condition of U.S. 2-41 between Rapid River and Gladstone. He called it "disgraceful." The Highway Department said it was bad all right and that it planned to take bids in March on an improvement project.

The capping will be welcome, but the road is the worst traffic bottleneck in the Upper Peninsula and improving a two lane highway where there is urgent need for four lanes doesn't solve the traffic problem nor end the hazard.

Your Income Tax-V

What Type Deductions?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — In making out your 1966 income tax return you may find your deductible personal expenses were greater than allowed for in the standard deduction which anyone can take without listing expenses.

In that case, claim your expenses in full. But you'll have to itemize them, to prove you had them, and you'll have to figure your own tax, using form 1040.

The details and kinds of deductible and nondeductible expenses are vast, too vast for a story like this which can only hit the highlights.

You will find some details in the instruction pamphlet which the Internal Revenue Service sends all taxpayers, and infinitely more in the government's 100-page booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax." It costs 50 cents.

Here are some examples of expenses you can deduct: State and city income taxes, real estate and state gasoline taxes; not federal gasoline taxes; state and city sales taxes — the instruction sheet has a list of the states with sales taxes and how much you can reasonably deduct in keeping with your income and family size; personal property taxes; interest on a personal loan; on a house mortgage; on delinquent taxes; and on personal property bought on the installment plan, like an automobile.

You can also deduct for union dues and dues in a professional society; fees to employment agencies; alimony payments by the one making them; books and newspapers bought for use in your job; and expenses for your education, provided it is to help you keep up with your job.

You cannot deduct if the education was for personal reasons, like trying to help you get a better job.

If you use your car for business, you can deduct 10 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles and seven cents a mile after that.

You can deduct contributions to charitable, religious or educational organizations like the Community Chest, United Fund, Salvation Army, churches, Red Cross, heart, cancer and tuberculosis associations, nonprofit schools and hospitals; and gifts but no dues to the YMCA, YWCA, YMHA, YWHA, and organizations such as the American Legion, and to states and cities for public purposes.

You'd better read the 1040 instructions or the booklet if you want to exclude from income some of the pay you got while home on sick leave or for medical and drug expenses.

If you were under 65 and are filing a return, you may deduct medical expenses for yourself, your wife, or a dependent but only that part for which you have not been reimbursed by an insurance company and only that part of your unreimbursed expenses which exceed 3 percent of your income.

Costs of medicines and drugs are included in medical expense to the extent they exceed 1 percent of your income.

A person 65 before the end of the year—were considered 65 for the whole year if your birthday was as late as Jan. 1, 1967—in making out his return can deduct his entire unreimbursed medical and drug expenses without worrying about what percentage of his income they were.

If you were under 65 and paid the medical and drug expenses of your over-65 parents—or your wife's over-65 parents—you can deduct them in full on your return but only if you also provided more than half the 1966 support of the one for whom you claim the deduction.

Here's another detail: You may claim a medical expense deduction for the premiums you paid on accident and health insurance policies which provide reimbursement for hospitalization, surgery fees and other medical expenses.

You can exclude the first $100 of your stock dividends from domestic corporations—$200 if it is a joint return and the husband and wife each owned stock, either jointly or individually, from which they received at least $100 each. But the husband can't use part of his wife's dividends to make the total $200 and the wife can't use part of her husband's dividends for the same purpose.

You can also deduct what is above the first $100 for each person lost from vandalism or from theft or casualty, like a storm that damaged your house or an accident that damaged your car, if it wasn't covered by insurance. But if your auto accident was caused by your willfulness, you can't deduct at all.

You can deduct five cents a mile if you work free for a qualified charitable organization and use your car in doing so.

But here are things for which you cannot deduct:

Federal income taxes; federal Social Security taxes withheld from you pay; Social Security payments you make for someone working in your home, like a maid; auto licenses, unless based on the value of the car; a driver's license; auto inspection or parking meter fees; taxes you pay for someone else although you can claim them as part of your support for a dependent; poll taxes, inheritance, gift, cigarette, tobacco or alcoholic beverage taxes; fees for dog tags, hunting or fishing licenses or marriage licenses; tolls for roads and bridges; water bills; sewerage and other service charges.

You cannot deduct gift to political candidates, political organizations, relatives, friends or other individuals, labor unions or social clubs; you cannot deduct federal excise taxes on automobiles, telephones or airline tickets.

But there are other kinds of deductions you can take, like moving or travel expenses if you are transferred to a new job, or retirement income credit, or deductions for child care.

Of course, if everything goes well South will make a lot more tricks. He will win the first spade, cash his ace of clubs and lead a club to dummy for a finesse of the jack.

CENTRAL STANDARD
We would sure be in favor of Central Standard Time, we pay for Cable TV and have to miss a lot of our favorite programs and shows on account of Eastern Standard Time.

It's the older citizens who are home the most and enjoy a show or two in the evening. We could be on Central Standard Time the year round as people don't work late in the day anymore and some only work five days a week.

Children have to go to school in the dark and I think it's terrible; city lights burning till 8:30 in the morning.

Seven cold months on Standard Time and five months on Eastern Time would be okay. I see nothing to gain by remaining on Eastern Time.

Postman Six Years, Still Waits Coffee

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the mother who was afraid to let her son be a part-time postman because of all the indecent proposals his buddies got from oversexed women. I'm ashamed to admit it but that letter has given me an inferiority complex.

I have been a full-time postman for six years and not one lady has met me at the door in a transparent negligee. To be truthful, I haven't received a single offer, not even for a cup of coffee.

Do I have a problem, Ann Landers? — IGNORED

Dear Ig: It depends on how much you like coffee.

Dear Ann Landers: I don't know who else to ask so I am following the crowd and writing to Ann Landers. I have a shopping cart in my garage and I don't know what to do with it.

Many years ago I had a large family and no car. The stores where I did my marketing allowed me to carry groceries home in the carts. I always returned them, but for some mysterious reason this one cart remains in our garage.

I now have a car and use it to do my marketing. Every time I go into the garage and see that cart I feel guilty. I can't remember where the cart came from because they all look alike. What should I do? — FEEL LIKE A THIEF

Dear Feil: Return the cart to the market nearest your home and get it off your conscience.

And while we're on this subject, I'd like to make a plea to housewives everywhere. If you gals only knew how many shopping carts disappear from the nation's markets it would twirl your turbans. The cost of these carts must be absorbed by someone, and YOU, Mrs. Consumer, are one who gets it right square in the pocketbook. So check around, girls, and get those carts back to the market where they belong.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 14-year-old house cleaner. I do the dinner dishes every night and I also mop, dust and scrub the whole downstairs whenever I get so fed up with the dirt that I can't stand it anymore.

The problem is my 19-year-old sister, Sylvia works five days a week from 7:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. When she comes home, all she does is sit around smoking and reading. She leaves coffee cups and cigarette butts all over the place. Her room looks like hogs live in it. My mother doesn't say a word because, "Sylvia works."

I work, too. I go to school and that's no cinch these days. Do you think it is fair that I have to clean up after a 19-year-old sloppier? — IMPOSED ON

Dear Imp: Of course not. But where did you get the idea that life is fair? "Sylvia works" is just an excuse. I'll bet she was always a slob and you aren't going to change her, so don't try.

Continue to clean the house because you want to live like a human being. You are not doing it for her.

Want to say "no" to drinking without your buddies putting you down? Get cued in. Write for "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only," by Ann Landers. Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Recreation Building At Watertower Site

By a vote of 3 to 2 the Escanaba City Council Thursday night in effect upheld a previous decision to locate a proposed recreation building at the city watertower site.

A motion to switch the location brought a "rather fight than switch" reaction from councilmen who have consistently held that the watertower site is the best.

The vote climaxed a lengthy and sometimes heated discussion.

The motion to change the proposed recreation building site was made by Councilman George Rusch, supported by Councilman Cecil Chase.

Their motion was to have the recreation building located "in the vicinity of the high schools"—a location that was the latest to be recommended by the Planning Commission.

Rusch and Chase voted "yes" on the motion. Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe and Councilmen Ed Cox and H. George Nelson voted "no" and the motion was defeated.

Mayor Vanlerberghe said that his vote, which broke a tie, does not mean he is "closing the door to new ideas" or that he is endorsing any particular site.

Need Cost Figures

The mayor said that he is interested in knowing what the architects will report on cost estimates; and suggested that if the costs are above the funds the city has in the Catherine Bonifas Trust, then the people by referendum may have to vote additional money.

Chase said he thought the selection of site should be considered in the light of "new information."

Rusch asked T. D. Vinette, Planning Commission chairman, to address the Council. Vinette reviewed the Commission recommendations, including twice recommending the watertower site and later a site "in the vicinity of the high schools."

He also said that the Bonifas Trust money should be spent for a swimming pool rather than a recreation building.

Mayor Vanlerberghe noted that "we are talking about a lot of money as one Councilman I'd like to know where it's coming from."

Personal Benefit

He said it may be necessary to take the question of meeting the cost to the people in a referendum, since a recreation the Council was on a hook and that as far as he was concerned he didn't have to be taken off.

Table Advisory Vote

Cox also said that he had changed his mind about the need for an advisory ballot on the site selection. The election would cost an estimated $800.

He said he felt the Council is qualified to make the decision, based on recommendations to the Council by the Planning Commission and Recreation Board.

The discussion closed on Mayor Vanlerberghe's comment that further consideration should be delayed until the architects report recreation building cost figures.

The question of an advisory vote was tabled until facts and figures are presented to the Council.

Plea For U.P. Farmers

Higher Prices For Milk Asked

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The Michigan Milk Producers Association called for higher prices and an end to seasonal price changes for Upper Peninsula dairy farmers at a federal milk order hearing held here on Feb. 13.

Vernon L. Bingham, MMPA director of marketing, testified in behalf of about 250 members who provide grade A milk for U. P. markets.

Milk production in the Upper Peninsula declined in 1966 compared with 1965, he said, and prices paid dairy farmers should be held at their highest seasonal level to prevent further drops.

For their milk produced in January, members received $5.15 per hundredweight (48½ quarts) at the Soo; $5.10 per hundredweight at Ironwood, and $5.08 per hundredweight at Marquette.

Unless the Dairy Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture acts, U. P. dairymen will face a price drop of about 20 cents per hundredweight in the spring.

The hearing was called to consider seasonal prices in 31 areas in addition to the Upper Peninsula.

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's bottle milk prices of 98 cents to $1 over Milwaukee prices are making shipments from Wisconsin to southern Michigan profitable, an agricultural economist said today.

Dr. John Ferris, a marketing specialist, commented in his mid-February market report. Bottle milk prices in Michigan have been $6.10 a hundredweight (48½ quarts).

Ferris also said price gains for cattle would be difficult to obtain this spring because of a report showing 7 per cent more cattle on feed Jan. 1 than one year ago.

Pressures from seasonal supplies, he added, will hold pig prices down.

Karen Grossman Superb As Joan

In the 15th Century, Joan of Arc, the most notable warrior saint in the history of Christianity, left the Village of Vosges, France, to lead the French army in driving the British from her homeland. She exerted herself with such force that she was judicially burnt, for what George Bernard Shaw called unwomanly and insufferable presumption.

Two days ago another Joan, alias Karen Grossman, led a small band of Spartan warriors through one of our coldest winter days from the campus of Michigan State University, East Lansing, to the Escanaba Area High School auditorium. Purpose — to present a superb performance of Shaw's masterpiece, "St. Joan," to a live and captivated audience.

Miss Grossman gave to her performance all the boyish charm as demanded by the author. Dean Kyburz, in the role of Beaudricourt, the first patron of Joan, was excellent, as was Dale Rose as the steward to Beaudricourt, John Gooch, as the archbishop and Bernard Tato, as the weak and effeminate king. And, indeed, the entire cast complimented the above perfectly.

The whole production was effectively orchestrated by the director, Frank Rutledge, professor of dramatics at MSU.

The Players de Noc, local sponsors of this performance, are now looking forward to their spring production, the title of which will be announced soon.

The meetings of this organization are usually held on Tuesday nights at Bay de Noc Community College. Specific dates are announced in the Escanaba Press. All interested thespians please come. — William Williams

Escanaba Finds Snow Is Costly

The continuing snowstorms that have plagued Escanaba this winter are a pain in the pocketbook as well as the back, Escanaba City Council was told by City Manager George Harvey Thursday night.

Snow removal costs are running much higher than had been anticipated a year ago when the city budget was in preparation, Harvey said. The cost is over the budgeted figure and the Council will be called upon to amend the figure to meet the higher expenditures.

One of the major costs confronting the city is the need to replace the old city snow loader with a new piece of equipment. This cost will come from the city's budgeted equipment fund.

Need New Loader

Eight bids were received by the Council Thursday night and the apparent low bid was $17,700 from the Bark River Culvert and Equipment Co., Escanaba.

The Council referred the bids to the city manager and the head of the public works department for analysis and report.

The old snow loader, acquired by the city as used equipment in 1957, will be replaced with a snow blower that can be used in summertime as a front end loader. The city is also exploring, with the assistance of Councilman Cecil Chase, the possibility of acquiring additional equipment from Civil Defense Surplus.

The City Council in other business Thursday night:

Appointed Fire Capt. Duwaine Hansen to the Heating Board of Examiners; authorized an extension of sick leave to Jerome Mileski; adopted a resolution urging the State Highway Commission to extend the construction of shoreline highways in the Upper Peninsula; and adopted a resolution favoring legislation to have FHA insured mortgages extended to vacation homes and cottages.

Launching Site

Approved a request of the Escanaba Foundation to deed 4.5 acres of city-owned land on the North Bay shore to the Foundation so that it may convey the land to T. D. Vinette for the construction of boat launching facilities.

The Vinette Co. is now engaged in the construction of several large boats requiring facilities for launching.

The price of the 4.5 acres is $6,000, and Vinette must begin construction of launching facilities there by Nov. 1, 1967, or the property will revert to the ownership of the city. The land is located just south of the city electric generating plant.

The Council adopted resolution endorsing National Crime Prevention Week; and endorsing and supporting the construction of the Great Lakes Natural Gas Pipeline across the U.P.

BEAUTIFUL SNOW is a costly commodity in the winter wonderland that used to be called the Banana Belt. Besides the strain on back and arm muscles, pictured here in the 600

Overconfidence May Hit GOP: Milliken

MANISTIQUE—At a Lincoln Day celebration in St. Francis de Sales Parish Hall Thursday night Lt. Gov. William Milliken asserted that the greatest threat to the Republican Party is overconfidence.

He reaffirmed the 1966 campaign slogan: "Republicans Care About People," and said "Now that we have retained George Romney as governor, regained control of the State Senate, taken control of the House of Representatives and won substantial gains in Congress, it is up to us to prove that statement."

"One of the best ways for us in Michigan to prove that the Republican Party is responsible and responsive is to do exactly what we are doing now: Take a tough position on tax reform; to save dollars where possible and to spend them where necessary."

"It would be political folly and a repudiation of the public trust if we sidestepped our responsibility; tried to turn back the clock or blocked progress in areas of vital public concern."

He reiterated that politics is people and said that the Republican Party was built on the principle that a government should do for its people only what they cannot do for themselves.

who already pay a city income tax.

Dzendzel outlined what he said was a partial list of the 1967 Senate Democratic legislative goals.

Education, health and welfare will be dealt with as separate items later on, he said, because they are of enough importance to warrant individual handling.

Goals Listed

Among the Democratic goals listed were:

— Control of air and water pollution.

— An increase in the minimum wage law and higher payments for disabled workers.

— Repeal of the present two-year voter registration law and a return to the more liberal four-year registration plan.

— A revision of state insurance laws, particularly to eliminate geographic differentials for premiums.

— A stronger hospital licensing and control law.

— Uniform assessment of property, based on ability to pay.

— Continuance of an aggressive traffic safety program.

— Consideration for state aid payments to local law enforcement agencies to support the war on crime.

— Passage of a law to allow a petition vote on Sunday liquor sales.

"If we can help people do more for themselves, win and hold their confidence as the party that cares about people, and have leaders who are willing and able to make tough decisions in the best public interest, then we need have no fear for the future of this party."

Dr. Duane L. Waters, master of ceremonies introduced Rep. Charles H. Varnum, who evaluated tax reform as the biggest problem facing the Michigan Legislature. Unless tax reform is a reality, a deficit of $186 million may be expected in June of 1968, Varnum said.

He announced his appointment as a subcommittee member on appropriations for public safety, which reviews and disburses funds or such things as the National Guard and State Police. He also has a seat on the powerful House Appropriations Committee, which formerly was the Ways and Means Committee.

Varnum said that the Mackinac Bridge Bill recently introduced is a good bill and stands a good chance of passing the House. "It would be a real start toward industrial development and tourism," Varnum said, adding that tourism was down in the Upper Peninsula.

Varnum asked people to write the Conservation Department and ask that the fisheries studies be based in Manistique harbor.

Expressing appreciation for support in the last election and referring to his new duties as representative of the 107th District, Varnum declared "I just love it!"

Mrs. Maxine Heath of Germantown, who is retiring after serving many years as secretary of the Schoolcraft Republican Party, was presented with a gift of appreciation by Varnum.

Dr. Waters introduced guests including William McLaughlin, vice chairman of the Michigan Republican Committee, and 11th District Chairman Ralph Huhtala of Iron Mountain. The dinner was under the general chairmanship of Mrs. George Wood and was served by members of the Varnum Volunteers. Music was by the German Band.

Romney Off On 10-Stop Trip In Western States

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — From blanket tosses in Alaska to barbecues in Arizona it sounds like a presidential campaign tour.

But Michigan Gov. George Romney, scheduled to leave today on a seven-day tour of six western states says he hasn't decided if he is a candidate.

Decided or not, Romney's trip is designed to give him exposure most of those boosting him as a 1968 Republican presidential nominee say he needs.

Many of his backers have said Romney, 59, must make some statements on major national issues and get around the country soon if he hopes to capture support for the nomination.

The governor's schedule includes at least 10 speeches, some of which are expected to be major policy statements.

The itinerary was worked out by a Lansing-based group called Romney Associates, devoted to promoting Romney for the nomination.

The party will visit 10 cities, including a brief flight change stop in Chicago. The schedule called for Romney to leave today for Seattle with a 55-minute stop in Chicago.

The governor has no public appearances scheduled in Chicago or Seattle, where the party will spend the night, leaving Saturday morning for Anchorage.

The governor also will visit Utah, Idaho, New Mexico and Arizona.

Senior Citizens Hear Maki On 'A Living Trust'

At the meeting on Feb. 14, the Senior Citizens of the Chamber of Commerce heard Arne Maki, vice president and trust officer of the First National Bank & Trust Co., speak on "A Living Trust."

Maki in his presentation pointed out the many advantages in a "Living Trust," one of the most important being the flexibility of the program. Maki said it can be changed, added to or detracted from during the life of the maker of the trust. He further said that it should be set up in connection with a will, but it should be a separate instrument.

The committee was commended by the Chamber Board of Directors for its assistance in completing the tourist folder project.

The members of the committee will again assist in the K. I. Sawyer Day program Saturday as guides for the tour of the city and as hosts at the luncheon.

Boys and girls in the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades of the public and parochial schools need only appear for their events and the names of the winners will be reported to Erwood Slade, clerk of the meet.

The Playday will consist of races of 110, 220 and 440 yards with the 4th graders scheduled to open the program at 1:30. The first four finishers of each race will receive ribbons, and emblems will be awarded to the high point winners of each school.

Only the participants actually racing will be permitted on the ice and all youngsters waiting for their turn to skate will not be allowed on the course. The general public is invited to attend and watch the races from the record-high snowbanks around the rink.

The Webster skating rink shelter house will be closed Saturday afternoon because of the Playday. Club 314 will also be closed on Saturday because recreation department staff members will be at Royce Park.

The Danforth ski hill will be open this weekend. The hours for both Saturday and Sunday will be 1:30 to 5:00 in the afternoon.

TWO-STORY COLONIAL: The look of comfort that generally is associated with this type of traditional residence is in full evidence here. The exterior is a pleasing combination of hand-split red cedar shingles, narrow clapboards, vertical V-joint siding and slate grey asphalt shingle roof.

A Traditional Two Story

By ANDY LANG

Explaining the continued popularity of the two-story colonial house is not easy. Its many variations are lacking in spectacular features. Perhaps this is its biggest asset. Nothing about it overwhelms you. Instead, there is a kind of balanced, familiar charm that exudes warmth and pleasant good cheer.

Traditional in style, the design of this House of the Week has four bedrooms and 2½ baths within a total of 1799 square feet of habitable area on two floors and within overall dimensions of 63' 6" by 28'. It thus is capable of handling a large family without being spread out over a large plot of ground and an oversize house. Architect William G. Chirgottis, Intended Design G-74, to satisfy all family demands right from the start—and has succeeded in carrying out that purpose with a well-balanced layout. The covered entry provides a welcome introduction to the house. An impressive foyer is the key to efficient circulation, distributing traffic effectively throughout the first and second floors. For the convenience of both guests and residents, a powder room has been provided off the entrance hall. The living room is to the right of the foyer and features a large, projecting boxed bay window, yet still has a large amount of

from the foyer to the four upstairs bedrooms, with a foyer-like hall eliminating any feeling of congestion on the second floor. There are seven closets upstairs to take care of clothes and storage needs. The master bedroom has a full bath with a stall shower. The other bathroom is split, with the lavatory in an outer section.

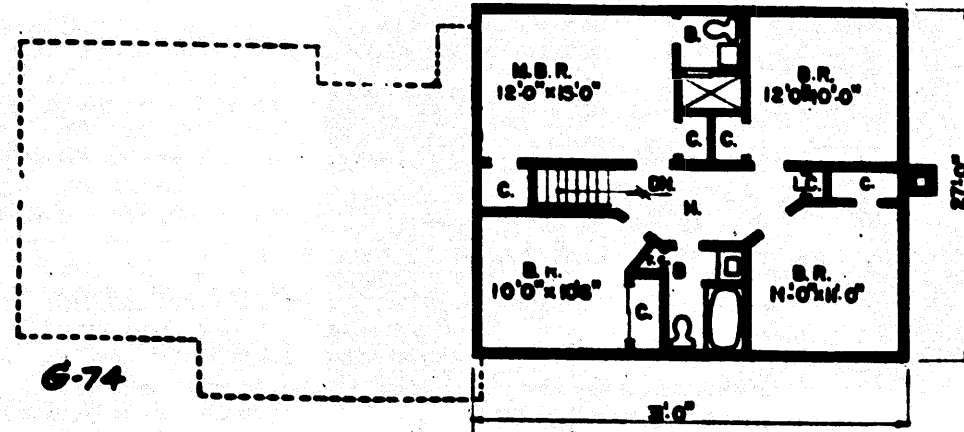

The kitchen and family room can be reached directly from the downstairs entrance foyer without crossing any other rooms. The kitchen provides sufficient eating accommodations for the entire family, with the left side of the room designated as the dinette. Windows over the sink and the dinette provide plenty of natural light besides affording a clear view of the backyard. Sliding glass doors in the family room take full advantage of the view, light and access to the rear patio and garden areas. Youngsters can be entertaining in the family room while the adults are enjoying the living room—without either group disturbing the other. Also in this area is the laundry room, with a washer dryer, storage cabinet facilities and the rear service entry.

A full basement and the attached oversized two-car garage—with storage space for bicycles, garden tools and other equipment that do not have to be brought into the house—complete this solid two-story plan.

The artist's rendering shows how neatly architect Chirgottis has succeeded in making the garage appear to be part of the house. A common roof covers the family room and a portion of the garage. Identical windows enhance the arrangement. One window belongs to the storage portion of the garage. The remainder of the garage is set back four feet, with a sloping roof that makes this part of the structure appear to be a side porch or extra room.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN

SECOND FLOOR PLAN

FLOOR PLANS: Practicality is the keynote of this floor layout, which provides all the necessary ingredients for comfortable living for a large family within modest dimensions. An excellent first impression is created by the spacious, interesting front foyer.

LIVING ROOM WINDOW: An example of how effectively a projecting boxed bay window can be decorated to add interest to a living room. It is an equally interesting exterior asset.

This type of architecture, effectively camouflaging the garage from the front, is possible with most lots, where there usually is more space at the rear of the house than at the side. But it is easily adaptable to the wishes of a family that has sufficient land to prefer a side entrance, since it would not be necessary to destroy the illusory effect at the front.

Killer Sand Truck Brakes At Fault

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Two mechanics testified Thursday that brakes were faulty on a sand truck that smashed into a school bus at Windsor Dec. 21, killing eight school children.

William Purbrick, mechanic for 27 years for International Trucks Ltd., Windsor, said the truck had "no more than 50 per cent stopping power" when the accident occurred.

Dennis Alchin of Alchin Brake and Steering Service, Windsor, told Magistrate's Court that he found a "serious leak in the air brake system" for the truck's trailer.

He also said the front set of trailer wheels had no brakes at all and the rear wheels had only 50 per cent braking power.

Both appeared as prosecution witnesses in the trial of Marcel LeFrancois, 32, of Stoney Point, Ont. He is charged with dangerous driving while handling the truck when it hit the bus.

KAY AND MAY Galbreath, identical twins from Niles, Mich., are headed for home today but you won't see them walking down Main Street. The pretty 26-year-old stewardesses will be coming back on film, made in Hollywood and starring Craig Stevens. They had a brief part in the movie and soon returned to their workday jobs in the air. (AP Wirephoto)

Jet Set Twins Enjoy Twinly Togetherness

By PAT GALLAGHER

Niles Daily Star

NILES (AP)—The jet set twins, Kay and May, are headed back to their home town of Niles.

But, don't look for the blond daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Galbreath to come walking down Main Street like back in their local school days.

Instead they are coming back on film, joining actor Craig Stevens in his latest caper, "Peter Gunn," now being wrapped for delivery to the nation's movie theaters.

But the twins' Hollywood glamour queen days are over and they have returned to their workday world jobs as airline stewardesses.

They were chosen for their film roles because 26 years ago they were born 6 minutes apart and they've been about that close ever since.

They were among several sets of stunning twins chosen for parts in the picture. How big is their film part?

Their parents were cautioned, "Don't blink your eyes or you will miss us."

Mole On Her Cheek

If you want to tell them apart, Kay has a mole on her cheek.

The girls who have "always" enjoyed their twinning once founded a local audience in a Niles High School play. May (or was it Kay?) walked off one side of the stage and a moment later her sister appeared from the opposite side wearing an entirely different costume.

In 1958, judges for the Miss Niles contest did a double take when both sisters entered. The results: May was crowned queen and Kay was named her first runnerup. That same year May was named Melody Queen and Kay was voted Homecoming Queen. Both were members of the high school choir and the varsity cheerleading squad.

When asked why both of them entered the Miss Niles contest, May answered, "We've always done everything together, so we wanted to be in this contest together even though we knew only one could win."

One theory about twins is that they should be given a chance to find their respective identities. The Galbreath girls aren't so sure. They like being twins. They enjoy a kind of mutual identity.

Said Kay: "When we have our own twins — they are a third generation of twins — we will do just what our parents did, raise them as an equal pair."

Said May: "It has been a special kind of experience. All the good things come in doubles; with all the rest, we can go halves."

Same Dreams

They tell of dreaming the same dreams, perhaps after eating the same sauerkraut. And once, when separated by thousands of miles, they selected identical anniversary cards for their parents.

There's one occasion when they insist on splitting up — dating.

Both girls realize they will be separated one of these days by marriage, but meanwhile they're glad about being half of each other.

May has been flying since February 1963. Kay joined her nine months later.

That two girls from the same family are likely to meet severe stewardess requirements is chance. The odds against their being based in the same city are one out of nine; the probability of their flying together is virtually nil, unless May, with her seniority edge, waives the better schedules available to her so she can fly with Kay.

In talking about their job, May said, "you can't beat the hours." They earn about $600 a month, for about 80 hours a month. Not to mention free, off-duty trips and fractional air fares to many places in the world.

European Trip

They like to sun in Miami, go to the theater in New York, shop in San Francisco, go horseback riding in the Rockies. Pass privileges extend to parents and Kay and May have treated their parents to a vacation in Honolulu. Next trip planned is Europe, according to the girls.

Kay and May are in a highly marriageable occupational group. United Airlines alone has to ground nearly 1,000 stewardesses a year for marriage.

Would they want their daughters to be stewardesses? "Our parents have already had to answer that one," said May. "And we'd say the same: if they have the capacity to make it an enriching experience."

"And if they are twins, as they probably will be," said Kay. "They'll have twice the fun."

Kresge Profits At Record High

DETROIT (AP)—The S. S. Kresge Co. reported Thursday its 1966 profits reached a record high of $38,600,016, with sales up 26 per cent and earnings up 20 per cent.

Sales were $1,080,181,480 in 1966, compared to $851,443,168 for the previous year, the firm announced. Profits compared with $22,154,314 in 1965.

Earnings broke down to $3.55 a share last year, up 55 cents from 1965.

GLADSTONE

Eaton's Profit Breaks Records

Another record year for sales and profits, the fourth in succession, was achieved in 1966 by Eaton Yale & Towne Inc.

John C. Virden, chairman, and E. L. Ludvigsen, president, report that consolidated net income of the highly diversified manufacturing company increased 17 per cent in 1966 to $51,396,150, as compared with $43,759,924 the year before. On a per common share basis, these figures were equal to $3.45 in 1966 and $2.95 in 1965. The 1966 per share results are adjusted for a 2-for-1 split.

Consolidated net sales for last year amounted to $795.6 million, an increase of 13 per cent over the preceding year's total of $701.7 million. All domestic product groups contributed to the improvement in sales.

Adverse influences cited as restraining profits in 1966 were the heavy start-up expenses at new domestic plants and the costly transfers of production between a number of plants at the company's E.N.V. group in England which produces axles, transmissions, gears and related products.

Expenditures for research and development in 1966 increased more than 18 per cent over the previous year, and there is every indication that such expenditures will rise again in 1967 they state.

The company manufactures a wide variety of products, including materials handling and construction equipment, control systems and general products, truck and off-highway components, passenger car products, and locks and builders' hardware.

Services Held Thursday For Wm. Ebbesen

Burial of William Ebbesen, 88, of 242 Delta Ave., Gladstone at 11 a.m. Thursday in the Rapid River Cemetery after complete funeral services in the Anderson-Johns Funeral Home by the Rev. Reuben Carlson contributed another line to a footnote of Norwegian history that took part of the Ebbesen family fortunes from Norway to Masonville.

Mr. Ebbesen was a descendant of the illustrious House of Ebbesen in Norway. He traced his ancestry there to the 13th Century when Nels Ebbesen saved the throne of Denmark.

A statue of Nels Ebbesen was erected in 1882 in Randers, Norway.

William Ebbesen was educated in private schools in Norway before coming to Masonville with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Soren Ebbesen when he was 12 years of age.

The father had been in the fishing industry in Norway, where the family owned the Isle of Sannesjoe and when depression struck the industry the family migrated to Michigan in 1887.

National Geographic Magazine in 1949 pictured the statue of Nels Ebbesen and told of the family fortunes.

The family has a seal of red stone which is passed down to the oldest son and which is now the property of Nels Ebbesen of Hyde.

The Soren Ebbesens are buried in the Rapid River Cemetery.

C. Sigmund Addresses Escanaba Woman's Club

The Escanaba Woman's Club held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce Building with Mrs. Forrest Henslee, president, presiding.

Tentative plans were made for a Men's Night to be held in March instead of the regular March meeting.

Mrs. Alfred Gossan, local soprano soloist, delighted the group with an aria from "La Boheme", "Mi Chiamano Mimì" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

She was accompanied by Mrs. George Peterson.

Charles Sigmund of the Bay de Noc Community College faculty addressed the club on the topic, "Relationship of Higher Education to Society." He stated, "Education should provide the means for continual scientific experiments and the introduction of the results of such experiments into society in an orderly, non-violent manner. This can be done by developing man's rational potentials."

"The rational individual will recognize that society has no more prerogatives than the individuals that make it up. Therefore educational instruction must be free to recognize the rights of the individual and must be free from the pressures of the mass society. In this way education can act as a self-corrective mechanism in society rather than an authoritative affirmor of the current social ideology."

Program chairman for the day was Mrs. Clifford Frasher and hostess committee chairman was Mrs. Ralph Anderson, assisted by the Mesdames, Norman Bergeron, N. P. Chapek, Joseph Coplan, James Emerson, Vagn Gydesen and Horace Provo.

Coach Vic Fochesato's Norway Knights clinched at least a third place finish in the Menominee Range Conference race when they belted Niagara, 81-65. . . Bob Mastie, 6 foot 2 inch senior, exploded for 30 points to lead the Knights to their seventh triumph in 11 conference games.

Red Ruffing Named To Baseball's Hall

(NEW YORK AP) — Charles (Red) Ruffing, the newest member of baseball's Hall of Fame, advocates the automatic placing in the sport's shrine of all those who've played in the big leagues 20 or more years. "You have to be doing something to play in the majors for 20 years," said the New York Yankee pitching great of the 1930s and 40s, after being named to the Hall Thursday in a special run-off election. "I'd like to see a rule like that and also that no one can be elected who does not have a lifetime batting average of at least .300 and, for pitchers, those who didn't win at least 200 games."

Tulsa Trips Cinci Quint

By The Associated Press Joe Swank can start thinking about Louisville now. The coach of the University of Tulsa saw his Hurricanes overwhelm the Cincinnati Bearcats 76-57 in the top college basketball game Thursday night. That set up a Saturday showdown with Louisville's nationally ranked Cardinals that is expected to decide the championship of the tough Missouri Valley Conference. While Tulsa was beating the Bearcats at home, Louisville stayed off a late rally by North Texas State to beat the Eagles 66-61 at Denton, Tex. It was the 21st victory against two defeats for the Cardinals, second only to unbeaten UCLA in The Associated Press poll. The Cardinals thus go into their crucial game at Tulsa Saturday with 10-1 MVC record. Tulsa is 7-2 in MVC play and 16-5 over-all.

Aquinas Downs Ferris State

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Paul Jagels put in 24 points to pace Aquinas to a 93-84 basketball victory over Ferris State Thursday night. Dennis Alexander added 22 points for Aquinas and Dennis Patterson contributed 21 more. Aquinas led 45-38 at halftime, but Ferris tied it 74-74 with 6:35 left on a basket by Kerry Spann. Then Jagels hit a layup and Alexander put in a jump shot to pull Aquinas into a lead it never lost. Ferris State was paced by Jesse Mangham, who scored 24. Guy DeGuidice put in 20 for Ferris. The victory gave Aquinas a 12-9 record and put Ferris at 1-17.

Conference Cage Crowns Can Be Clinched Tonight

It's trophy grabbing time in the Upper Peninsula tonight as basketball teams seek to capture conference crowns throughout the region. Here in Escanaba, Coach Harold Johnson's Eskymos can clinch their first Great Northern hardware with a victory over city rival Holy Name.

Escanaba enters the game with an unblemished 6-0 record in the league while Holy Name is 2-4. The Eskymos need a victory over Holy Name or Stephenson next week to eliminate any danger of losing the title.

Iron Mountain, a team that competes in two conferences, can wrap up the Menominee Range pennant tonight by defeating Crystal Falls, a feat that may take some doing.

The Mountaineers, coached by Irwin DeMerse, have a 9-1 Range record but the setback was suffered to Crystal Falls by a 74-64 margin in an earlier meeting. Crystal Falls is 8-2 in the league and would move into a tie for first with a victory tonight. Coach Stu Smith's Trojans lost four of their first five starts this season before jelling for a 9-5 record, including revenge victories over such teams as Gwinn, Norway and Kingsford.

Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins take on arch-rival Powers-Spalding tonight and a victory will give them the Big Seven conference crown. Hermansville carries a 9-1 mark into the tilt while the Tigers are 6-4 and out of the running. Channing has an 8-2 record and couldn't catch the Redskins if they get past the P-S Tigers tonight.

If Hermansville fails to beat the Tigers, a two time victim in earlier meetings this season, the Redskins could still clinch the crown in their league final against winless Alpha Feb. 24.

Trenary's Comets can occupy the Central League throne room for the first time in the history of the school by defeating Garden on the road tonight. Coach Steve Ellis' cagers have already chalked up 13 straight Central triumphs and another would put them out of reach of Rock, regardless of the outcome of other games this season.

If Trenary does not get past the Jets tonight, they would still take home all the marbles if Rock loses one of its three remaining games, including a contest at Eben tonight.

Other teams poised to gobble up conference titles tonight are L'Anse in the Copper Country Conference and Champion in the Mid-Peninsula loop. The unbeaten Hornets face Hancock and Champion meets Chassell.

Teams that have already nailed down conference honors are Wakefield in the Michigan-Wisconsin, Ishpeming in the Great Lakes and Eben in the Porcupine Mountains.

Kentucky Team Rips Wildcats By 33 Points

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Wesleyan, No. 2-ranked small college team in the country, overwhelmed Northern Michigan 91-58 in basketball Thursday night.

Wesleyan scored on only 39.3 per cent of its floor shots but took a decided edge in rebounding.

Sam Smith grabbed 25 of Wesleyan's 76 rebounds and scored 26 points to lead the Kentuckians, now 17-1 for the season.

Dominic Jacobetti led Northern Michigan with 18 points.

NMU put up a stiff fight at the outset and the score was tied twice in the first period. But Wesleyan raced to a 44-25 halftime lead and widened the margin in the last half to as many as 34 points.

Red Wings Bow, Abel On Phone For New Talent

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings' third straight loss kept Manager Coach Sid Abel on the telephone today, scouring minor league rosters for fresh talent.

"We're tired, fatigued," said Abel after the listless Wings dropped a 5-1 National Hockey League game to the front-running Chicago Black Hawks Thursday night.

Abel said he plans to bring up three minor league players for Saturday's game at Montreal, benching three men on the current roster.

"We'll give some of the boys a rest. . . try and freshen us up a bit," Abel said.

While the Black Hawks boosted their first place margin to 16 points over idle New York, Boston whipped Montreal 5-1 to keep the fading Detroit hopes for a Stanley Cup playoff berth alive.

The fifth place Wings trail Toronto by two points in the battle for the final playoff spot. Montreal is four points up on Detroit in third place.

Detroit's offense was unlucky and its defense ineffective in the loss to Chicago. The Hawks forced the game into the Detroit zone most of the night, peppering goalie Roger Crozier with 41 shots, including 18 in the final period.

Phil Esposito scored two of Chicago's first three goals as the Hawks stretched their unbeaten string to 15 games, including four ties.

Esposito's first goal came at 3:02 of the opening period. He slotted a backhand past Crozier after taking a pass from Eric Nesterenko.

Stan Mikita, the league's leading scorer, made it 2-0 in the second period with his 20th goal, a forehead flip shot which passed over Crozier's right shoulder. It came on a power play.

Another Mikita goal was disallowed by Referee Ron Wicks, but the slick Hawk-center picked up an assist to boost his point total to 76.

Esposito's second goal and 19th of the season came at the onset of the third period.

Floyd Smith ruined Chicago goals Dennis DeJordy's bid for a shutout at 15:33 of the third period.

The Detroit offense, sluggish most of the night, missed two other goals earlier in the game: the first when Gordie Howe's long slap shot hit the post in the first period and the second when Norm Ullman hit the crossbar with a shot out of a pileup in front of the Chicago net early in the second period.

Bill Hay and Doug Mohs got the other Hawk goals. Both came on defensive failures by the Wings.

Chicago's Doug Jarrett took the puck away from Howe in the Detroit zone and fired a pass to Hay who skated in all alone and flicked a shot past Crozier.

Mohs' 19th goal came out of a scramble for a loose puck in the Wing zone at 19:22 of the third period.

"Gordie (Howe) gave me one to Hay and Howe (defenseman Howie Young) just stood there on the fifth goal," said Abel.

Detroit defenseman Leo Boivin suffered an 11-stitch gash above his left eye in the first period when he was struck accidentally by the stick of Chicago's Kenny Wharram. But Boivin played out the game and the injury did not appear to be a handicap.

The game was the 300th of Norm Ullman's NHL career. In 11 years in the league, the Detroit center has scored 280 goals and 388 assists for 668 points.

Tommy Williams, playing only his 19th game of the season, scored two goals within 40 seconds in Boston's victory over Montreal. Bob Dillabough, Ron Murphy and Pat Martin scored the other Bruins goals.

The Canadiens' Gilles Tremblay caused a shutout for Boston netminder Bernie Parent with a first period tally.

Eskey Wrestlers Trip Mustang Squad, 37-11

The Escanaba Eskymo wrestling squad, tuning up for the first Upper Peninsula championship tournament to be held at Northern Feb. 24-25, turned in a workmanlike performance Thursday night while beating Munising, 37-11.

The victory was Escanaba's eighth against only two setbacks in dual competition this season. Coach Jim Hirm's matmen will travel to Marquette Saturday for their final regular season action against the Redmen. Action will start at 1:30.

Escanaba dominated the action last night, winning six matches by pins and earning four decisions.

Individual results with Eskymo athletes listed first:

103 - Dale Ford pinned Todd Perry 2nd period
112 - Mike Frasher pinned Bill Bartell 2nd period
120 - Dan Salmon pinned by Pat Des Jardins 1st period
127 - Steve Javurek won decision over Rick Ward 4-0

138 - Ray Segorski won decision over Carl Peterson 4-0

165 - Gerald Moore lost decision to Dave Paquette 10-2
180 - John Bennett won decision from Dave Stangel 2-0
Heavyweight - Dan Scheuren pinned Alf Moros 1st period

The game was the nightcap of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at Madison Square Garden, Cincinnati beat Detroit 122-110 in the opener.

In the only other game, Rick Barry scored 53 points in leading San Francisco to a 125-124 victory over Chicago at Fresno, Calif.

JUNIORS SPLIT

Escanaba Junior High cage teams split with Gladstone Thursday, the 8th graders winning 48-39 and the 7th graders bowing, 42-39. Tom Kangas led the Eskey scorers with 21 points while LeClaire tallied 24 for Gladstone.

Eastern Trips Detroit Quint

DETROIT (AP)—Hal Simons and Roy McNeely each fired in 18 points as Eastern Michigan dropped the cold-shooting Wayne State Tartars 90-80 in basketball Thursday night. Wayne hit only 25 per cent of its field goal attempts in the first half and Eastern pushed to a 50-35 halftime lead, hitting on 46 per cent of its field goal tries. Terry Cupples, a freshman, hit 24 points for Wayne, which wound up with a 32 per cent average on its field goal shots in the game. Wayne is 5-14 for the season. Eastern is 16-5.

Pro Grid Group Led By Brown

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The city of Cincinnati and the name of Paul Brown came to the forefront in unofficial discussion among American Football League club owners as they wrapped up four days of meetings here Thursday. Cincinnati appeared to have the inside track to become the league's tenth franchise. The name of the legendary former coach of the Cleveland Browns added luster to the most prominent of three solid groups in the Ohio metropolis which are bidding for the club.

The AFL owners voted Thursday to move toward immediate expansion following a meeting that President Milt Woodard said may have advanced by one year, to 1969, a complete merger with the National Football League.

The league voted Wednesday to bring its player pension plan up to the NFL level, removing the major stumbling block to player trading.

"We conveyed our feeling directly to Pete Rozelle (pro football commissioner) and the NFL owners will take it up next Monday at Honolulu," Woodard said.

The AFL likely would welcome a coach of Brown's prestige and reputation. Before he was ousted in 1963 following a change of ownership on the Cleveland NFL club, Brown posted a 12-year record with the Browns of 104-38-5 including nine conference championships and four NFL titles.

He heads a group composed of his son, Cleveland attorney Mike Brown, John Sawyer and Dr. William Hackett of London, Ohio.

Cincinnati will break ground in April on a new 55,000-seat stadium. A bid by a Seattle team was weakened recently by defeat of a new stadium bond issue.

Amateur Star Scares Himself

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—The way Arthur Ashe has been playing tennis lately, he scares not only his opponents but himself as well.

"I know I can't play this well forever, but I don't think I would have lost to anyone tonight," the nation's top ranking amateur said Thursday after overpowering young Bob Lutz, 6-2, 6-1 in the quarter-finals of the U.S. Indoor Tennis Championships.

"I never played two better sets in my life," said Ashe, who disposed of Lutz in 48 minutes of near-perfect tennis. "It scares me."

Ashe's next match will be Saturday against Cliff Richey, who struggled for 2 hours and 37 minutes Thursday before eliminating Marty Riessen 13-11, 3-6, 10-8.

Two more quarter-final matches will be played tonight to decide the final members of the all-American semifinal round. All 27 foreign entries in the original 40-men draw were eliminated by the end of Wednesday's third round.

Pistons Given 1st Draft Pick

NEW YORK (AP)—Detroit suffered a 122-110 defeat at the hands of the Cincinnati Royals Thursday night, but the day wasn't a total loss for the Pistons.

National Basketball Association officials awarded Detroit the 1967 No. 1 draft choice of the Los Angeles Lakers to complete a recent trade in which the Lakers' Rudy LaRusso refused to come to Detroit.

In other NBA action Thursday the New York Knickerbockers whittled to a 121-120 victory over the St. Louis Hawks and San Francisco squeaked past Chicago 125-124.

Cincinnati's Adrian Smith scored 21 of his 30 points in the first half as the Royals built a 65-47 lead. The Pistons came within two points, 81-79, late in the third quarter. But the Royals rebuilt their lead and wrapped up the victory.

The Royals' "Big O," Oscar Robertson, hit 34 points for the game high.

Scoring high for Detroit were Dave Bing with 21 and John Tresvant with 20.

The Pistons won Los Angeles' top draft choice as a result of a protest when LaRusso retired from professional basketball rather than leave Los Angeles. He was to have been Detroit's gain in a three-team trade involving the Pistons, the Lakers and the Baltimore Bullets.

Smoky Burgess Back In Action

CHICAGO (AP)—A pudgy figure will chug up to the plate in Comiskey Park again this baseball season while the organist plays "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and White Sox fans chant for a pinch hit.

Catcher Smoky Burgess, holder of a major league record of 137 pinch hits, was rehired Friday by the Sox who had given him his unconditional release last fall.

The return of Smoky at the age of 40 adds some spice to a team that needs it.

The 5-foot-8, 200-pound veteran who broke into the majors with the Chicago Cubs in 1949 always aroused the fans—racing in from the bullpen as fast as his stubby legs would take him, grabbing a bat from the rack, and pounding up to the plate to the organist's rendition.

And, likely as not, he would slap a pinch hit. He made 21 last season as he batted .318 and boosted his league record to 137. The most pinch hits in a season is 24 by Dave Philley when he was with the Baltimore Orioles.

When Smoky was given his unconditional release after the Sox asked waivers on him it was said he wanted to devote all his time to his automobile business in Forrest City, N.C.

Sox General Manager Ed Short said if he wanted to return as an active player he would be invited to spring training. Short said Smoky will report to the Sox March 1 in Sarasota, Fla.

Record Payoff For Playoffs

NEW YORK (AP)—A record $280,000 will be split among teams making the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The playoffs, which will start no later than March 22, according to NBA President Walter Kennedy, have a money pool of $100,000 more than last year.

Also to be won is $17,500 for the team finishing first in each division and $5,000 for the team with the highest percentage average at the end of the season. Each team finishing second in its division gets $10,000 and third-place finishers get $5,000.

First-round playoffs will involve first and third-place teams in each division. The winners will meet to establish divisional champions who will meet in the championship series.

Chuck Courtney Follows Palmer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Chuck Courtney went into Friday's second round of the $60,000 Tucson Open golf tournament one stroke behind Arnold Palmer while taking putting lessons along the way.

Courtney, who finished with a five-under-par 67 in the gathering darkness Thursday, says he owes his good showing to Bob Charles, four veteran from Christchurch, New Zealand.

"I don't care if he three-putts every green," said Courtney, tour regular from La Jolla, Calif., "as far as I'm concerned he's the best putter on the tour."

Courtney, 26, playing in the same threesome as Charles, said he had been having trouble with his putting and watching Charles stroke the ball on the greens helped his game.

"Just watching him come through the ball made me realize I was using too much left hand and it helped my concentration," said Courtney, who three-putted only one green.

That three-putt green came on the final hole and knocked Courtney out of a chance for a tie with Palmer and gave him his only bogey of the day.

Up to that point, Courtney sank putts of 20, 20, 15, 12 and 24 feet in gaining six birdies.

Courtney finished in a three-way tie for second with Bruce Crampton of Sidney, Australia, and Joel Goldstrand of Worthington, Minn., who survived a qualifying round playoff to make the Tucson Open.

Card of Thanks

Johnson

I take this means to say thank you to my many friends and neighbors who came to visit me, called, sent cards, flowers and gifts while I was in St. Francis Hospital. My thanks go to the nurses and nurses aides, Rev. Carlson and Rev. Patrow. Your kind acts will never be forgotten.

Card of Thanks

Anderson

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear mother Emma Anderson. Especially do we thank the staff at Pinecrest Medicare Facility, Doctor Pieper, to the pallbearers, to those who sent flowers, spiritual bouquets, those who offered the use of their cars. We are grateful to Rev. Pollock for his comforting words. Your kind acts will never be forgotten.
